SERMON DELIVERED BY REV. LEE HARREL TO GRADUATES OF NORMAL

The following is the sermon delivered by Rev. Lee Harrel Sunday night in the First Baptist church to the graduating class of the State Normal school:

Text, John 8:32—"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."
Let me say to this class, who are graduating from the Northwest Normal school, that I feel highly honored in being permitted to preach to you the baccalaureate sermon on this occasion, a sermon delivered as a sort of farewell discourse. The custom is an old one, and a beautiful one. It, perhaps, originated long years ago, when the young men who had received the degree of bachelor of art wore a garland of bayberries, or it may have been a garland of the beautiful wax-like flowers of the bay tree. Tonight is a kind of celebration of the close of the college life of a class. Once more the greetings and good-bys are spoken. Swift hours—hours that pass all too soon—hours crowded full of romance and pathos—sweet and sad.

"Something beautiful is vanished. And we sigh for it in vain; We behold it everywhere, On the earth and in the air, But it never comes again."
As I passed by I read this inscription over the doorway of your institution: "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." What better theme can I use tonight than this? The only real freedom is that which is evolved out of truth. Theories of education are as diverse as man's conception of the law and order of mental growth. Men have erroneously conceived of truth as having its origin in an objective world. They have looked upon education as a kind of process of imparting truth to the human mind—a kind of casting into the mind the truth which may be in possession of the teacher. As if a mind in the full realization of the truth could cast that truth into the mind of another as we would cast an object into a vessel. Such theories overlook the fundamental fact of our life, that the truth is within us; and that the beginnings of all human effort find their origin in moral strivings within us. The hour when intelligence awakens in a child witnesses a nobler birth than the physical—the birth of the moral man—the man who sees and feels obligation and responsibility. From thence proceed all the strivings of life, but doubly reveal the longings of the soul to know the truth; that truth which is already in the soul, and which responds only to the divine thought manifested through Jesus

Fern Hess, a little nine-year-old girl of Lenox, Ia., was brought, by her parents, to St. Francis hospital Saturday evening suffering from appendicitis. She was operated on immediately by Dr. G. A. Nash. She is doing nicely. The next morning after the operation, when asked by her physician, "How's the little girl this morning," she instantly replied, "All I need is a soda pop, then I'll be all right."

We are all limited in our resources, fettered in our surroundings, and often are ready to say, "What is man? A mere breath amid the unsounding ether of the universe."

What is life? Life is the sum of all mysteries. Before it philosophy is dumbfounded. No philosopher can tell why the blood is life, or explain the telegraphy between the brain and the muscles, or write the notation of the heart beats, or point out the secret hiding places of the soul. Oft man is to stand in the judgment before God. In the balance of reason he knows that his spirit outweighs and outmeasures the sun in dignity and in value. He has a knowledge of God and of immortal writers—a blessed knowledge—a cry in the night—a hand that feels in the dark. Now, first of all, I would not have you forget that the revelation

MINE MADE $425,000

FORTUNATE INVESTMENT OF A FORMER MARYVILLE MAN.

FORTUNE AFTER FAILURE

After Having "Broken Up" by Indorsing a Friend's Paper, Sylvester Markwell Made Good.

Sylvester Markwell, a wealthy miner of Wallace, Idaho, one of the towns burned in the forest fires, is in Maryville visiting his brother, Henry Markwell and family. This is his first visit to Nodaway county, his boyhood home, in many years. He was lured by the West several times before he finally made it his home. When he first left, in 1863, he owned forty acres of land which now comprises the south end of Maryville and is all occupied by residences. He went again in 1865 and remained until 1869, when he returned and resumed his farming here. In 1871 he traded his forty acres here for a ranch in Nevada and $3,000 in Texas railroad warrants. The warrants turned out to be worthless, but the ranch was all right. He raised nothing but alfalfa hay for which he received $25 a ton and made money. He married a young woman in Denver, Col. They lived in Nevada ten years and then moved to near Santa Rosa, Cal., where he bought land.

In California Mr. Markwell went security for a friend who later failed in business and he was broken up completely in making good the loss. Mr. Markwell then left for Wallace, Idaho, and went into the dairy business, assisted by his four sons. It was a fortunate move—"the only time," he says, "I ever knew of a man getting rich from breaking up after going a friend's security. But it made me rich. We had 200 cows and the dairy was a great success."

He moved to Idaho eighteen years ago. After a time the mining business in the region of Wallace was found to be very valuable, and Mr. Markwell and his sons bought up some claims. They paid $1,000 for their mine at Burke, seven miles from Wallace, from which they have realized $425,000. There have been great losses, and expenses, too, in connection with working this mine and carrying on their other big business, "but we have fared very well," he said.

When asked if he attributed his success to any one thing, Mr. Markwell said "No. I have only worked steadily and never spent my money foolishly. I always took care of and believed it was something intended for right use. I was fortunate in believing that good habits were best for a man, so I did not form bad ones, which are always expensive. I have always lived well."

Mr. Markwell is quiet and unassuming in his manner and seems surprised that his old friends here should think he is more than ordinarily prosperous. He has the big western view of things, so there are mighty few enterprises that look big to him. He sees many nice changes in our town.

A marriage license was granted Monday to Herman C. Lincoln and Miss Lillie M. Smith of Pickering.

SERMON TO GRADUATES

of the Son of God in your heart and experience is the vital element of all freedom, all power, all triumph. There is a silent, subtle, vital disclosure of the Lord in the personal experience of the believer in Christ which is to his unfolding life its impulse and its joy. There is nothing mysterious about this to some of us. Many of us have felt this inward revelation of Christ—a discovery, longer, sweeter and more and more luminous of the nature and work which enters and is woven like a thread of gold into the fabric of thought and character. In the presence of peril and the pressure of temptation, this conscious revelation of Jesus Christ to our souls is a pledge of permanent victory.

So let us not forget that, first of all, in the discernment of truth it is through the illuminating presence of Christ in us that the scale drops from our eyes and we see clearly. There is realized the grasp of a hand unseen on the helm of life, and the authoritative voice of Him who gives the rule of higher rectitude than this old world teaches.

We recognize inward impulses that are not born of us, but of resident and daily more regnant power, that are working through our own volitions. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Truth is verified in our vision because it is illuminated by Him who is the light of the world. By this light, and this light alone, we catch a heavenly vision of that pattern in the mount after which every true tabernacle of the soul must build. It is here the imagination sees the unseen, hails it from afar, prophesies and introduces the truth.

I think a man should take God into his intellectual life. God will come into men's lives just as real as He ever did. "If any man lack wisdom let him ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally."

And when God does come into our lives He brings all His ideals with Him. His ideals are all perfect, and they are all for us. He did not make us to drift with the tide and then pass away. We are here to master the tides or to take them at their flood and go on to fortune.

"Turn, turn my wheel; this earthen jar

A truth can make, a touch can mar;
And shall it to the Potter say,
What maketh thou? Thou hast no hand?"

As men who think to understand
A world by their Creator planned,
Who wiser is than they."

No, God has no thought of nature, no concept of beauty, or love or goodness, no poetic prey, or dreams of unrealized glory which He does not share with the life which bears His image. There is no secret He does not wish to reveal to the heart that longs to know. Education is only the making of that which is in us. All greatness that creates is great because it sees what can be done. Creation is only thought put into objective appearance. It is thought clothed in visible beauty. Knowledge and intellectual life grow only as the divine possibilities of art and science respond to helpful environment. Men become God-like in art and science as the work of education arouses dominant possibilities. This is the purpose of education. It is the meaning of the word. All works for study are valuable in proportion as they make the soul itself great, and enable it to manifest itself. Wherever men of thought and genius have lived they have given to the world new views of the truth, that truth which made their own lives beautiful. By this means intellectual activities have been stimulated. Truth should be of your own discerning. It is intellectual suicide to simply repeat what others have taught—to walk in beaten paths. Thus we see the mission of mental environment is not simply to impart, but to evoke science; not to add to the sum total of our intellectual life, but to furnish conditions upon which our mental life may be brought out into the light.

Here the true educator finds the keynote of method and the invisible law of all mental growth. Men are made in the image of God. They possess by nature attributes and forces accordant with the heavenly and the divine. God has placed man in an environment which is suited to evoke all that is original in his constitution. The physical life responds to its environment. The intellect and the sensibilities give birth to a world of truth and beauty. The image of God in the human soul, marred by sin, its divine lineament faint and fleeting, responds to the master touch of Jesus Christ, who is the way, the truth and the life. "The truth shall make you free." The office of all environment and of all teaching is to give direction to these evolving principles implanted in the soul. All real teaching has its value in showing us what is best, and organizing the forces of the human will for a life-long—yea, an eternity long—struggle toward the blessed, perfect eternal best, to teach the soul to keep step to the music of eternal harmonies, to make it wise in seeking after the best, and thus seeking to find God. This is the only road to freedom. Liberty is not exemption from commandment. Whoever finds that what is his duty is his delight is enfranchised—is free. To be freed by the truth it oftentimes becomes necessary for one to choose loss in the pursuit of gain; to surrender ease for the enjoyment of the fruits of toil; to incur peril for a larger safety; to surrender life for that which is dearer than life—liberty. The shining pathway of light over which the saints walk in white under the burning splendors of God were once rough paths trodden by feeble men buried in moral gloom. This piece of divinity in men, this pulse of yearning upward, this fluttering of imprisoned truth has pushed every man a little way toward the Kingdom of God.

"Not a truth has to art or science been given

But brows have ached for it, and souls toiled and striven;

And many have striven, and many have failed,

And many have died, slain by the truth they assailed."

I can give to this class no better advice than this. Seek the truth diligently. See the truth clearly, largely and proportionately. Feel the truth profoundly. Choose the truth mightily.

The man of truth is the man of freedom—he is the man of power. The false man is the slave—he is weak and impotent. The man of truth is the brave man—he is thrice armed, because armed with the right. The false man is the coward—he cringes in the presence of his own conscience. The man of truth is the leader—men will gather about him. The false man is the deserter—others loathe his presence. Truth magnifies the man who discovers it and makes it manifest; it lifts him up. The false minimizes the man that treasures it, and covers him with shame. Truth is in itself a judgment upon darkness; it reveals the secrets and brings into prominence all the unsightly things hidden by the mantle of the false. "The truth shall make you free."

"The power to bind and loose to truth is given;
The mouth that speaks it is the mouth of Heaven."

In conclusion, let me say: Your college life is perhaps ended. The last lecture is heard, the last recitation is over, the last book is read. These have played a conspicuous part in your school life, but a part yet more conspicuous is the personality of your teacher. Behind the lecture and the book has been your teacher, the dignity of whose vocation is just beginning to be understood.

A word to the president and the board of regents will not be out of order here. Keep as teachers strong men and women, who will leave with students an aroma of a beautiful personality. A man may know all the alphabet under the sky and yet not be a man of culture. It must be understood that culture is a far larger word than scholarship, and that education is an infinitely completer word than intelligence. All the pedantic acquisitions of the world cannot be matched against the gifts of God in the form of spiritual genius and spiritual expression. Oh, the cleverness and the straightness and strength of that life which looks to Jesus Christ for the truth, and just bravely does it.

"To thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."

AIR MEN RESUME RACE TO MADRID

Tragic Death of Minister of War Does Not Stop Contest.

FOUR AVIATORS KEEP FLYING.

Emile Train, Whose Plane Caused Disaster, Relieves—Vedrine Goes 297 Miles in Three Hours and Thirty-Nine Minutes, Breaking Record.

Paris, May 23.—Notwithstanding the tragic accident which ushered in the Paris to Madrid aviation race and which caused the death of M. Berthou, the French minister of war, and the serious injury of Premier Monis, the contest was continued by four of the men.

Emile Train, whose machine was the direct cause of the disaster, retired from the race, but Gibert, Vedrine, Frey and Garros decided to continue their flights to the Spanish capital.

Vedrine arrived at Angoulême, 297 miles from the aviation field of Issy-les-Moulineux in the remarkable time of three hours and thirty-nine minutes, breaking the world's record for distance in a cross-country flight.

Frey only succeeded in reaching Etampes, where his machine turned turtle in a squall and plunged to the ground. Frey was not hurt.

Gibert lost his way and landed at Brizay, but later resumed his flight.

Garros, the first contestant to reach Angoulême, is repairing his machine for the second stage of the flight from Angoulême to St. Sebastian.

PINE MEN AGREE ON PRICES

Committee of Thirty Makes List and the Association Adopts.

St. Louis, May 23.—That a price list committee of the Yellow Pine Manufacturers' association recommended a uniform price scale for lumber and that this scale, with or without amendments, was adopted by the organization, was brought out at the hearing on the state's ouster suit against the alleged lumber trust.

George K. Smith, secretary of the Yellow Pine Manufacturers' association, testified that the association had 300 members and that the committee on prices has thirty members. The ouster suit was filed in 1907 at the request of the legislature and preliminary hearings were held soon after. In the intervening time the state has had investigators at work.

Proposed amendments to the code of ethics in the lumber industry were discussed at the opening session of the lumber trades congress here. Attorney General Wickersham was invited to attend and deliver an address.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of sooting quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as with it comes a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and salts and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Strattonville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. F. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in that way and now write that it is their one family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy. Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 699 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

REBELS KILL 206 CHINESE

Leaders Did Not Hold Men in

MOB ENGAGED IN RACE RIOT.

Citizens Found Themselves Utterly Unable to Control Murderous Rioters—Details of Sacking of City Replete With Tales of Cruelty.

Mexico City, May 23.—Official reports reaching here tell the story of a massacre of 206 Chinese at Torreon, following the rebel occupation last week. Upon receipt of the news, the Chinese charge d'affaires made formal representations to the Mexican government.

The details of the three days' battle and the sacking of Torreon is replete with cruelty, which shows that the rebel leaders did not hold their men in control or deliberately turned them loose to prey upon a conquered and defenseless people. The official advice do not give the number of dead, but taking the 206 Chinese as a basis, it is certain the number is larger.

After the battle Colonel Lejero retired with his federal forces and the rebels entered the city. Citizens found themselves utterly unable to control the mob and reports indicate that scores of innocent residents were victims.

Always antagonistic to the yellow race, the Mexican rebels and mob engaged in a race riot. A great part of the business of Torreon is conducted by the Chinese, some of whom are wealthy, and, according to reports, the rioters shot down or stabbed them without mercy.

Diaz to Leave Country.

Minister of Foreign Affairs de la Barra had not received any word from Judge Carbajal that General Madero had finally approved the cabinet as suggested. As soon as Madero's acceptance is received it may be presumed that President Diaz will present his resignation to the chamber of deputies.

On the assumption that this acceptance will be made within the next twenty-four hours it has been practically agreed that it will be made public tomorrow.

No effort is being made to disguise the fact that General Diaz will leave the country at an early date. It is expected he will spend several months visiting Europe and it is reliably reported that a passage has been engaged on one of the steamers of a French line.

On notification that peace had been agreed to the management of the National railways began the work of reconstruction. It was officially said the Mexican Central would be open to traffic within ten days and the International between Torreon and Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, would open perhaps within three days.

Presbyterians Object to Etching on Silver Service for Warship.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 23.—The Presbyterian general assembly went on record as being opposed to the acceptance by the navy department of a silver service for the battleship Utah, which has engraved on the coffee tray an etching of Brigham Young, one of the founders of the Mormon religion, and a view of the Mormon temple at Salt Lake city in the background.

A resolution of protest was adopted unanimously and the assembly ordered that telegrams of protest be sent to President Taft and the chairman of the committee of representatives which is considering the matter.

The permanent judicial committee took up the heresy charge case against Dr. William D. Grant of Northumberland. It was announced that there was little likelihood of a decision being reached for a day or two.

WOMAN HORSEWHIPS M'N

Preacher's Wife Attacks Member of Caney School Board.

Caney, Kan., May 23.—Mrs. W. A. Haynes, wife of the pastor of the Christian church here, publicly horse-whipped Daniel H. Plozman, a member of the Caney school board. Mr. Plozman swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Haynes and her son, who accompanied her.

The trouble grew out of a fight over the election of a superintendent of public schools. Mrs. Haynes wrote a communication to a local paper concerning the selection. Plozman posted the clipped communication in the window of his store and appended the words:

"She says she is a religious woman."

Mrs. Haynes entered the Plozman store and demanded that the clipping be removed. Plozman refused. Then Mrs. Haynes attacked him with a riding quirt, striking him seventeen blows before he could disarm her.

Evansville, Ind., May 23.—An alligator nearly two feet long fell from the clouds during a hard rain and landed on the front porch of the residence of Mrs. Hiram Winch. The reptile was killed by Mrs. Winch with a bedslat after it had crawled into the front door.

SAVED CHILD FROM DEATH.

"After our child had suffered from severe bronchial trouble for a year," wrote G. T. Richardson, of Richardson's Mills, Ala., "we feared it had consumption. It had a bad cough all the time. We tried many remedies without avail, and doctor's medicine seemed as useless. Finally we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and are pleased to say that one bottle effected a complete cure, and our child is again strong and healthy." For coughs, colds, hoarseness, lagrippe, asthma, croup and sore lungs, its most infallible remedy that's made. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Orear-Henry Drug Co.
